

Bruno Boucher

Associate Partner

Bruno Boucher is in charge of all our activities in Africa North, West and Central. His wide-ranging management experience at a senior level in large and culturally diverse organizations has proved invaluable in navigating the continent's regulatory and infrastructure landscape, and in leading large-scale projects to a successful conclusion.

Bruno joined us in 2012 after five years at the helm of IT Infrastructure at Lufthansa Systems. There, Bruno's multidisciplinary and multinational perspective enabled him to successfully leverage his deep knowledge in large IT projects and in outsourcing deals for over 150 airline clients. Bruno Boucher previously headed global outsourcing business development for HP from Geneva and the international business of T-Systems in Germany.

His expertise covers UAV (Unmanned Aerial Vehicles) consulting in the area of surveillance and delivery worldwide. He has directed many projects in Africa for international and regional airports, the start-up of new airlines and civil aviation authorities.

Bruno Boucher lives in Frankfurt and is at home in English, German and French
